

TRANSAID TRUSTEE BIOGRAPHIES 2011

We are extremely fortunate to have the guidance, expertise and support of some high flyers from the Transport & Logistics industry. All devote a significant amount of time to the benefit of Transaid, its members and projects.

You may recognise some of the names and faces and meet some new friends along the way.

Graeme McFaul BA, ACMA, FCILT

Graeme joined Wincanton in 1994, having previously held finance roles with Cargill and PepsiCo. He joined the Board of Wincanton Plc when it demerged in 2001 and was responsible for all of the operations in the UK before he was promoted to Chief Executive in 2005.

Graeme is a Fellow of The Institute and is Immediate Past-President. Graeme also holds the rank of Lieutenant Colonel, RE (V), in the Engineering and Logistics Staff Corps, a group of senior business leaders who offer advice to the Armed Forces.

Graeme is a Non-Executive Director of Wates Group Ltd. He joined Transaid as a chairman in September 2010.

John Harvey CBE FCILT Trustee (Former Chairman) jaharvey@kesent.com

John joined Unilever in 1957 straight from University; he became Chairman of SPD, the Unilever UK distribution subsidiary, and a member of the Unilever UK Policy Committee. He has held SPD Board appointments in subsidiaries and joint ventures in N America, Scandinavia, Hong Kong, Italy and Ireland, and was responsible for the original Unilever investment in Tibbett & Britten in 1968.

John was Chairman of Tibbett & Britten for 20 years until its sale to Exel in 2004. He has served on the National Executive Board of FTA, and is currently Chairman of Keswick Enterprises Ltd, a UK based strategic investor in the logistics industry both in the UK, Eastern Europe and China. John is Chairman of the Advisory Board for the Cranfield Centre for Logistics & Transportation and Vice President of the Chartered Institute of Logistics & Transport. In 1992 he was awarded the CBE for his services to the industry. He became Chairman of the Transaid Board of Trustees in 2000 and has been indefatigable in his support for and commitment to the charity. He stepped down as a chairman in September 2010 but remains a member of the board.
